Location

Treasured as Australia's spiritual heart, the dual World Heritage-listed wilderness of Uluṟu-Kata Tjuṯa National Park is an ancient desert landscape widely known as the 'Red Centre'. Spanning a vast expanse of the Northern Territory, the outback's rugged beauty is heightened by the living presence of one of the world's largest monoliths, Uluṟu (Ayers Rock) and the sacred red domes of Kata Tjuṯa (The Olgas) which stand nearby. It's a land of stark contrasts, playing spiritual home to the world's oldest living culture, the Indigenous Australians, whilst revealing a more modern history with the folklore of the early western explorers.

Getting There

Uluṟu-Kata Tjuṯa National Park is located in the Red Centre in Australia's Northern Territory. The main airport, Ayers Rock Airport is three hours' travel by air from most Australian capital cities. Longitude 131° is located 15 minutes' drive from Ayers Rock Airport via lodge transfer, a 3 hour self-drive from Kings Canyon and a 4.5 hour self-drive from Alice Springs. More details »

Climate

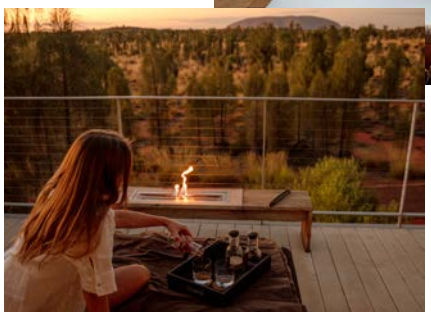

The semi-arid climate produces great travelling conditions. Warm, sunny days with minimal rainfall are the norm for much of the year. Typical desert weather patterns make for reasonable fluctuations in temperature between day and night. During the summer months, average temperatures range from 35°C during the day to 18°C overnight. In the winter months, the average daytime temperature is 22°C and 0°C overnight.

Season	Average daytime temp	Average overnight temp
Summer (December–February)	35–38°C	19–21°C
Autumn (March–May)	24–35°C	8–17°C
Winter (June–August)	20–24°C	0–6°C
Spring (September–November)	29–35°C	9–17°C

What to Bring

Reflecting the easy-going nature of the outback, dress is relaxed at Longitude 131°. Humidity is low in the arid Red Centre; days are sunny and can be hot, with cooler nights that can become quite crisp and cold in winter. Solid walking shoes, comfortable casual clothes and some layers of warmer clothes if travelling in the cooler months are recommended. Hat and sunscreen are essential year round. A camera and keen sense of adventure are a must!

Stay

Accommodation

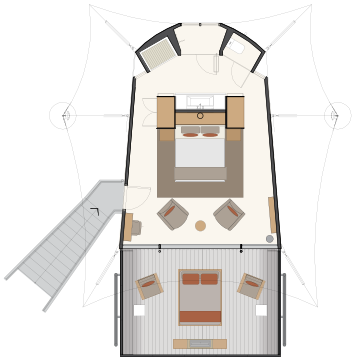

Nestled among rust-red dunes, Longitude 131° is a gathering of sixteen luxury tents. Unparalleled views of Uluṟu's changing lights play out from the end of the bed, or on balconies from the warmth of a swag unfurled in the cool night air. Custom furnishings invite stylish lounging, while works by local Indigenous artists offer inspiration. All tents feature king beds, a generous bathroom and lounge opening to a private balcony with fireplace. Other features include climate control, complimentary in-suite bar, wireless internet, B&O speaker, premium amenities, safe and telephone. Bathrobes, slippers, hairdryer and backpacks are provided along with daily housekeeping and signature evening turndown service.

Check-In / Check-Out
Check-in time is 2pm and check-out time is 10.30am. Where possible, flexibility with early check-in and late check-out will be provided, however, these are unable to be guaranteed.

Children
Longitude 131° welcomes children ten years and over.

Luxury Tent

The Luxury Tent pays homage to an early Australian explorer or pioneer, layered with vibrant Indigenous artworks to create a haven of quiet luxury. Contemporary furnishings invite relaxed lounging, while plush king or twin beds sit beneath the vaulted canvas ceiling, adjoining an ensuite with rain shower. Floor-to-ceiling doors open to an expansive balcony with daybed, armchairs and a feature fireplace - perfect for contemplating the desert's most iconic view of Uluṟu or sleeping under the stars in a custom swag.
